

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE AINSWORTH FAMILY

Undoubtedly takes its name from the chapelry Ainsworth (i. e. Aynes or Haynes enclosure) commonly called Cockey Moor, which is situated in the Parish of Middleton, Salford Hundred, in the County Palatine of Lancaster, England.

So long ago as 1369, A. D., John Ainsworth was of that ilk and owned lands there, but Baynes Directory for 1825 gave no one of the name as an inhabitant — there were then no Ainsworths in Ainsworth. The place was always a small one, and the census of 1881 states its population as only 1729 and its area as 1309 acres.

Burke's General Armory gives four coats of arms as those of Lancashire Ainsworths, that are probably ancient; two of these differ only as to their tincture (i. e. colors), and the four are represented by the three given in the frontispiece. The descriptions given by Burke in the technical language of heraldry are as follows:

Gules. Three Battle axes Argent.

Crest. Two battle axes in Saltire proper.

Motto. Courage Sans Peur.

2.

Azure. Three Spades Argent, another within a bordure or.

Crest. Two battle axes in Saltire proper.

3.

Azure, on a bend sable three crescents of the first.

4.

Sable, on a bend argent three crescents of the field.

In view of the later American history of the family, these coats of arms are not inappropriate, — the spades, as emblematic of the agricultural occupation of the great majority of the individuals representing the name, and the battle axes as symbolizing their aptness and devotion to the military service. Every war here has seen the Ainsworth name repeated on its muster rolls, and the number who died in the French and Indian war and in the Revolutionary war seems out of proportion to the number who have borne the name. The motto "Fearless Courage" has evidently been sustained by the family in America.

The present work is limited to the genealogy of the Ainsworth family in America.

One Anchor Ainsworth, by his attorney Henry Rashley, sold his house plot in Boston March 30, 1647, to Joseph Phippeni. There is nothing else to show that Anchor himself was ever in New England, and nothing to suggest any connection between him and other Ainsworths, except the fact that about the same time Daniel Ainsworth appears on the records as the owner of lands in Roxbury.

Daniel Ainsworth and his wife Alice were in Roxbury as early as 1647, he then being the owner of a house and home lot of twelve acres besides twenty or more other acres. He died November 13, 1680, leaving no will, and his property was appraised at £198. Alice died January 9, 1684-5, and the estate, real and personal, was again inventoried and valued at £192.04.02. Among the chattels valued each time was a bible which it might be interesting to see.

There is no record of any children born to Daniel and Alice.

February 13, 1684-5, Mr. Gore of Roxbury was appointed Administrator in place of [the name is lost but probably it was Alice] "in behalf of the heir or next of kin," and there is nothing on the probate records to show what became of the property ; but there is little doubt that the estate passed by operation of law—not by deed—to the next of kin, or that Edward<sup>1</sup> Ainsworth was this next of kin.

Daniel's homestead when he died consisted of a house and twenty acres adjoining, a part of this land being probably the ten acres of home lot that he bought of John Stow [or Stave] and the same that Daniel mortgaged in 1649 to Philip Eliot : and no doubt the home lot was the same named in Roxbury Book of Possessions before 1654 as owned by Daniel Ainsworth and there described as "bounded northerly by a highway." November 4, 1664, he deeded to Philip Curtis twelve acres of meadow, bounding the same on the west by other land of Daniel Ainsworth.

December 17, 1702, when Edward<sup>1</sup> Ainsworth was about to remove to Connecticut, he sold to Isaac Biscom his estate in Roxbury, including a dwelling house and other buildings, with land estimated at eighteen and one half acres, which land is described as bounded easterly by land of the heirs of Philip Curtis and northerly by the highway from Gambier's End toward Dedham. John Gore was one of the witnesses to the deed. These easterly and northerly bounds tend to identify the land sold by Edward in 1702, with that which belonged to Daniel in 1654 and 1664, and as there is no record of any conveyance to Edward, it is only reasonable to infer that it became his by inheritance as next of kin ; and the inference is confirmed by the tradition that Edward was nephew to Daniel. Then, too, Edward's first son was named Joshua for the mother's father : the second he named Edward for himself ; but the third son was named Daniel.

There were Ensworths about Hartford and Canterbury,

Conn., at the beginning of the 18th century, and the two names have so often been confused that it is difficult in some cases to distinguish to which family individuals belonged.

About 1725, there was a family of Ainsworths at Hanover, Penn., of which a few details will be given, but concerning whose present representatives practically nothing has been ascertained.

The vast majority of the Ainsworths in America can trace their descent clearly from Edward<sup>1</sup> Ainsworth of England, Roxbury, Mass., and Woodstock, Conn.

EDWARD AINSWORTH.

---

Edward<sup>1</sup> Ainsworth, born in England about 1652, first appears on the records in America as married January 11, 1687-8, but tradition says that his uncle Daniel sent to England for him, to make him his heir; that he came, and growing uneasy went to sea; that after some time he was cast away on the coast of Georgia, but made his way back to Roxbury and settled down.* Possibly this shipwreck may account for his absence at the time of the death of his aunt Alice, and for the appoint-

* Two versions of this tradition survive.

A memorandum made by the Rev. Laban Ainsworth, of Jaffrey, N. H. (born 1757), made probably a century ago, says that Edward came to New England by invitation of his uncle Daniel, "grew uneasy and went to sea and sometime after was cast away on y<sup>e</sup> coast of Georgia. All hands [except Edward] perished, one only escaped to land but died of fatigue in an hour. He [Edward] came to Roxbury," etc. etc.

Mr. Wyman Howe Ainsworth of Vicksburg, Mich. (born 1801) reports the tradition of Edward and a brother sailing from England, apparently intending for New England, and being wrecked before arrival. "The vessel stranded on a sand bar about one mile from shore. All on board were drowned, including one of the Ainsworth brothers. The other swam to shore, crept into a crevice in a rock. The rock is called the Stranger's Rock to this day. He kept the wolves away during the night by striking a flint with his jack-knife, the sparks from the flint frightening the animals. The next morning he swam back to the vessel, built a raft of such [material] as he could find on the ship, and took guns, ammunition, food, etc., and travelling along the coast found a settlement, as he knew there must be one near. He settled near there, and from him sprang my ancestors."

ment of her neighbor Gore as administrator in behalf of the heir or next of kin.

Of thirteen children of Edward<sup>1</sup> and his wife Joanna, eight were born in Roxbury; but in 1702-3 he sold out his possessions there and removed to Woodstock, Conn., where a colony from Roxbury had settled some fourteen years before.

Here for thirty-eight years he lived a husbandman's life, adding to his lands, and endowing his children from time to time, but in 1725, finding himself too infirm to manage his farming interests, he, according to a custom of his time, made over his home farm, with certain reservations, to his oldest son, conditional for the maintenance, etc., of himself and wife for their lives. The deed reciting the agreement is recorded in the Registry of Deeds at Worcester,* Mass., Book A, page 124, but the original paper, yellow and ragged with age, but well and clearly written, and adorned with flourishes in somewhat faded ink, is in the possession of the present writer, and reads, verbatim et literatim, as follows:

To all People unto whome these presents shall or may come Greeting. Know yea that Edward Ainsworth of Woodstock in the County of Suffolk and Province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England Husbandman being grown very aged and Infirm and thereby become very incapable of manageing his Husbandry affairs And being minded To Settle and dispose of his Real Estate in such a way and manner that himself and his dear & Loving wife Johannah might be credibly and decently maintained during their naturall Lives; That justice might be done to his children after the decease of himself and wife: That his eldest son viz<sup>t</sup> Edward Ainsworth Jun<sup>r</sup> of Woodstock aforesaid Husbandman might be sutablely rewarded for his living with & assisting him and manageing his affairs for

This arrangement, however, seems to have proved unsatisfactory, for July 15, 1737, the son Edward<sup>a</sup> reconveyed the homestead to his father, Edward,<sup>1</sup> for the consideration of £300, and the youngest son, Nathan, undertook the care of the aged parents.

The will of Edward<sup>1</sup> Ainsworth is on file in Worcester Probate Registry. It is dated August 10, 1737, was proved August 18, 1741, and reads as follows :

Will of Edward Ainsworth.

In the name of God, Amen, the tenth Day of August Anno Dom<sup>i</sup>. 1737.

It will be observed that both the will and the deed are signed by Edward, and the deed by his wife, with their marks. This is not conclusive of their inability to write, but the fact that Edward's mark to his will is a printed E makes it probable that such was the fact. And yet in the inventory again appears the bible, perhaps the copy which once belonged to the uncle Daniel.

The increase of the estate fourfold in the hands of Edward<sup>l</sup> speaks well for the thrift and husbandry of the ex-sailor, when it is remembered that he had previously made some provision for ten children.

He died at Brookfield, Mass., before February 4, 1794, and probably within a few weeks of that date. He was a resident of Brookfield as early as February 13, 1735-6.

Whitney, in his History of Worcester County (p. 81) says: "There is now [1793] living in Brookfield a Mr. Thomas Ainsworth, who supposes he is the last surviving soldier who was in the famous Lovewell's fight."

Although this is not impossible, it is probably incorrect, as Thomas Ainsworth was only seventeen years old at the time of Lovewell's last fight, and no person named Ainsworth is mentioned in the list of Lovewell's men. These lists may not be complete, but of those known to have served under Lovewell none were from places far distant from the valleys of the Merrimack or Concord Rivers.

There is a tradition that Thomas at one time lived with the Narraganset Indians, that he was very strong and venturesome, and there are old anecdotes of his cunning and daring in the hunt and in Indian fighting. It is not unlikely that in his feeble old age he got the delusion that he was one of Lovewell's band, or possibly Mr. Whitney's informant may have misunderstood some reference to other fights at which Thomas Ainsworth had been present.

In 1790, Jacob, the son of Thomas, applied to the Court to have him put under guardianship, alleging that by reason of the infirmities of age he had become non compos mentis. The Court called upon the selectmen of Brookfield for their opinion of Thomas's capacity, and they agreed in declaring him non compos, whereupon Jacob was appointed guardian to his father.

Very soon, Thomas, by his next friend, applied to have the guardianship removed; and his application describes Jacob as an undutiful and unthankful child (Jacob was 48 years old then). The Court examined Thomas, and in April, 1791, declared him competent to manage his own affairs, and ended the guardianship.

Thomas died before February, 1794, and his widow Ruth was administratrix; but the property was of small value, and consisted principally of a forty-two acre farm at Brookfield.

CHILDREN (all born at Brookfield, Mass.):

8. THOMAS, b. February 3, 1731.
9. SMITH, b.
10. EPHRAIM, b.
ELIZABETH, b. m. Nathaniel Abbott.
DOLLY, b. m. February 16, 1757 (2d wife), Joseph Wood.
11. JACOB, b. January 21, 1743.
12. DANIEL, b.
13. MARTIN, b.
EDWARD, b. probably he was the soldier of that name in Lieut. Stephen Tucker's company of the 11th
Connecticut, 1776; possibly d. in service.
14. JOSEPH, b.
15. MOSES, b.
BEULAH, b. m. Reuben Burt.
HANNAH, b. May 11, 1747; probably d. unm. at B. February 21, 1834.
MARY, b.

The order of the birth of these children cannot be stated, nor is it known which of the wives were their mothers. Dorothy signed a deed in 1736, and it is probable that Thomas<sup>a</sup> was a widower June 5, 1743, when his deed to David Wedge has no wife's signature. Hannah certainly was Elinor's daughter.

Nathan<sup>a</sup> (Edward<sup>1</sup>), born July 20, 1715, at Woodstock, Conn.; married 1st, April 14, 1736, Huldah (daughter of Joseph and Grace) Peake; she was born November 9, 1718, and died April 3, 1749. Married 2d, October 11, 1750, Abigail (daughter of John and Abigail) Child, of Woodstock; she was born January 1, 1729, and died December 6, 1794.

Nathan<sup>a</sup> died at Woodstock, November 24, 1776; was a tailor, and lame in one arm. Of his four sons, three died in the military service in the war of Independence. Amasa was too young to serve.

CHILDREN by Huldah (all born at Woodstock):

- HULDAH, b. September 19, 1736; m. June 12, 1783, James Wheeler, of Scituate, R. I.
 16. DARIUS, b. September 18, 1738.
 17. NATHAN, b. (probably) 1740.
 GRACE, b. June 1, 1748.
 MARY, b. September 6, 1744; d. April 10, 1749.
 JOANNA, b. February 2, 1747; probably m. Biel Ledoyt, May 29, 1770.

CHILDREN by Abigail (all born at Woodstock):

- MARY, b. August 14, 1751.
 WILLOUGHBY, b. July 25, 1754; tradition says that she was named in memory of Willoughby, the birth-place of Edward<sup>1</sup>.
 ABIGAIL, b. March 6, 1757.
 LUTHER, b. August 16, 1760; from two separate sources his death is reported: One stating that he "died in the army Oct. 20, 1780"; and the other that he was "killed by the Indians," no date. Both were correct. Colonel Brown, with a detachment from Berkshire, marching up the Mohawk to relieve the New York frontier, was seduced into an ambush and slain, with forty-five of his men, by a party of Indians and Tories, who themselves were afterwards, and on the same day, defeated at Fox's Mills by Gen. Van Rensselaer.—(See Diary of the Revolution.) Luther<sup>a</sup> was one of the killed. He enlisted from Wilbraham.
 18. AMASA, b. May 1, 1767.
 HANNAH, b. January 30, 1769 [or 1771]; perhaps m. November 17, 1791, Rowland Crocker.

Thomas<sup>2</sup> (Thomas, <sup>2</sup>Edward), born February 3, 1731, at Brookfield, Mass.; married Elizabeth Elizabeth Ainsworth and child Thomas were warned out of Sturbridge, October 12, 1758. Nothing further is known of them.

CHILD:

THOMAS, b. before 1758.

— 9 —

Smith* (*Thomas,* Edward*<sup>1</sup>), married June 6, 1757, Widow Mary (Burt) Wedge. He died in the military service—expedition to Canada, September 17, 1758. Was mustered April 14, 1758, in Capt. Daniel Burt's company, Col. William Williams' regiment. The march began in May.

ONE CHILD :

DEBORAH, b. February 12, 1758;	m.	Porter; lived
at Warren, Vt.; d.	1856.

— 10 —

Elder Ephraim* (*Thomas,* Edward*<sup>1</sup>), born 1737, at Brookfield, Mass.; married about 1757, Eunice Burt, a sister of widow Mary Wedge, who married Ephraim's brother Smith. She was five days younger than her husband, and died five days after he was buried. Both died 1811 at Woodbury, Vt.

A seat in the meeting house at Brimfield, Mass., was assigned to him September 12, 1757, probably upon his marriage. August 4, 1766, he, his wife, their three older children and Hannah Ainsworth, who was, perhaps, his sister, were warned out of Sturbridge by the thrifty officials of that town; but he lived there until 1770 certainly, for in a deed of that date he describes himself as of Sturbridge, yeoman. Later, he removed to Windsor, Vt., where it is said that his sons married, thence perhaps to Royalston; and about the year 1800 the whole family appear to have removed to Woodbury, Vt., and Ephraim, senior, was then an elder of the Free Will Baptist denomination. In 1841 there was a stone chimney and other remains of the log house in which Elder Ephraim died. His grandson, Joseph Ainsworth, who was present, states that just before his death the Elder had his family and friends called in, and preached his own funeral sermon from the text Rev. xiv. 13, and adds, that "as soon as the 'amen' was said he immediately expired."

CHILDREN :

- EUNICE, b. December 22, 1758, at Brimfield; m. John Bettis.
33. EPHRAIM, b. March 24, 1761, at Brimfield.
 AMY (or Ruamy), b. August 11, 1763, at Brimfield; m. July 14, 1801, John Thomas (the first marriage in Woodbury). She d. about 1856.
34. THOMAS, b. April 16, 1767, at Sturbridge.
35. BENJAMIN, b. SMITH, b. m. Sally Smith; was chosen selectman of Woodbury 1806. In 1812 he was living in Calais; d. in Pennsylvania, aged about 80.

— 11 —

Jacob<sup>a</sup> (Thomas<sup>a</sup> Edward<sup>1</sup>), born January 21, 1743, at Brookfield, Mass.; married November 14, 1771, Mercy (daughter of Nathaniel) Abbot, born May 22, 1751, died March 14, 1838. He died February 4, 1828. He was a soldier from Brimfield in Capt. Burt's company, Col. William Williams' regiment of foot, Canada expedition, 1758, and served in 11th Connecticut militia in 1776, as from Woodstock, Conn. He lived also at Brookfield and Sturbridge, Mass., and about 1800 removed to Calais, Vt., where he and his wife died.

CHILDREN :

- ASENA, b. at Brimfield, May 11, 1773; m. at Sturbridge, May 26, 1793, Jason Marsh, of Brookfield; d. July 1, 1819, at Calais.
36. JACOB, b. November 10, 1776.
37. PERLEY, b. December 25, 1778.
38. WAREHAM, b. July 27, 1780.
 CHLOE, b. March 18, 1782; m. April 17, 1803, Benjamin Bancroft of Petersham, Mass.; she d. August 1, 1854, at Calais.
39. LUTHER, b. February 10, 1784.
40. SABIN, b. June 3, 1786.
 MERCY, b. September 26, 1788; m. December 11, 1814, Nathan Chase of Calais; d. November 13, 1836.
41. DANFORTH, b. December 4, 1791.

Jacob's will names all of these except Danforth.

— 12 —

Daniel<sup>s</sup> (Thomas<sup>s</sup> Edward<sup>1</sup>), born about 1736, probably at Woodstock, Conn.; married Azubah Green, who died at Brookfield, Mass., before July, 1820. He died 1807.

He served under Col. John Murray in 1758, also in the Revolutionary war. First, in Lexington alarm, April, 1775, twenty days in Capt. Marcy's company; Second, May 9, to December 15, 1775, in Capt. Ephraim Manning's company, third (Putnam's) regiment Connecticut militia; Third, August 23 to November 9, 1777, in Col. Latimer's regiment, Saratoga campaign.

CHILDREN :

42. LEMUEL, b.
ANNA, b.

m. William Johnson of Brookfield.

— 13 —

Hannah, wife of Martin Ainsworth from Sturbridge, was warned from Brookfield, May, 1766. This would suggest that she was then a widow. No child mentioned in the warning.

CHILD :

BENONI, b. January 1, 1764?

— 14 —

Joseph<sup>s</sup> (Thomas<sup>s</sup> Edward<sup>1</sup>), born at Brookfield, Mass.; married January 7, 1761, Rebecca Allard, both then of Woodstock, Conn. He served in the Revolutionary war from July 1 to December 12, 1780, in the 4th Connecticut Regiment. May 23, 1765, he, his wife and their children, Mary and Anna, were warned out of Sturbridge, but there is no other evidence of their residence there.

CHILDREN :

ANNA,	b. November 5, 1763, at Woodstock, where she died.
MARY,	b. in or before 1765.
ELINOR,	b.
URIAH,	b. d. at Woodstock 1857. He was a deaf mute, and the last resident in W. of the Ainsworth name.

There is some reason to believe that the grandfather of John Wesley Ainsworth, q. v., may have been this Joseph's son.

— 15 —

Moses* (*Thomas,* Edward<sup>1</sup>*), born at Brookfield, Mass.; married Margaret McKnowland, who died at Calais, Vt., October, 1831, aged 93,=born 1738. Her father was a sailor. Moses died at Calais, 1834, and was buried in the cemetery at the centre of the town; but there is no stone at his grave.

It was probably he who was a soldier from Brookfield, 1762, and again mustered for eight months service May 6, 1775, in Capt. Sylvanus Walker's company, Col. Timothy Danielson's regiment.

He went to Chemung 1788, returned to Brookfield 1789, and went thence to Calais 1794; was of Ludlow, Mass., 1781; soldier from Sturbridge 1779. Suffered heavy losses by the depreciation of Continental money.

Rev. Laban<sup>4</sup> (*William,* Edward,* Edward<sup>1</sup>*), born July 19, 1757, at Woodstock, Conn.; married December 4, 1787, Mary Minot (daughter of Jonas and Mary (Hall) Minot), who was born at Concord, Mass., February 1, 1761, and who died February 3, 1845.

Laban died March 16, 1858, aged over 100 years. He graduated at Dartmouth College, 1778; licensed as preacher 1779; chaplain in McKinsty's corps in one campaign. Preached at Spencertown, N. Y.; was settled as the minister of Jaffrey, N. H., December 10, 1782; and his pastorate (over 76 years)—the longest on record—ended only with his death.

In July, 1840, Rev. Laban Ainsworth, then aged 83, and his son William Ainsworth, a graduate of 1811, attended on the commencement exercises at Dartmouth College, when Frederick Smith Ainsworth, the son of William, took his degree. All three generations being graduates of the College.

— 32 —

Oliver<sup>4</sup> (William,<sup>3</sup> Edward,<sup>2</sup> Edward<sup>1</sup>), born March 3, 1773; married October 23, 1794, Hannah Marcy.

Graduated at Harvard College in 1794. "It is said that in College, when everybody wore breeches, he would go to the pump [in the College yard] every morning, summer and winter, without shoes or stockings, and bathe his head and legs in cold water."—[Genealogical Register, 1877, p. 334.]

Settled as farmer at South Brimfield, Mass. About 1797 he suddenly disappeared, and was supposed by his neighbors to have been murdered; but his brother Laban's memorandum, made in 1807, says that Oliver "went to India in 1797. We had doubtful accounts of his going to the head of navigation on Elk River. In 1806 I heard from a transient person of a man of that name and description [slender make, 5½ feet high, light complexion, freckled, hesitates in speech] engaged in an academy in the vicinity of Elk River."

The last named locality was probably Elkton, Md., and the person referred to may have been one of the Pennsylvania Ainsworths.

ONE CHILD :

It is said that having no license in Vermont he went over into New Hampshire, got married, and swam back across the Connecticut River, bringing his wife with him. He seems to have been only 16 years old at the date of his marriage, which is said to have occurred while Thomas was living at Windsor, Vt.

He died March 20, 1858, at Woodbury, Vt., where with his father and uncles he was among the earliest settlers.

Was stationed as a preacher at Rutland, Holden, North Brookfield, Oxford, Millbury and Milford. He was the author of a life of the Rev. E. F. Newell, also of a hymn very popular among his brethren, beginning

Here o'er the earth as a stranger I roam,
Here is no rest,—is no rest.
Here as a pilgrim I wander alone,
Yet I am blest,—I am blest.

His talents as a preacher were thought to be more than ordinary, and the zeal and constancy with which they were developed, in spite of ill health and all difficulties, were heroic.

Col. Ainsworth received the degree of M.D. from the New York University, in February, 1874. Entered U. S. army, November 10, 1874, as assistant surgeon, with rank of first lieutenant; standing first on the examination list of some fifty applicants. Promoted to rank as captain November 10, 1879, and to be surgeon with the rank of major February 27, 1891. Appointed Colonel and Chief of the Record and Pension office May 27, 1892.

After serving in the field and on remote stations at the West for eleven years, he was ordered to duty in New York city, and in 1886 to Washington, where he is now at the head of the Record and Pension Office of the War Department.

The reforms which Col. Ainsworth has effected in the service and records of his department are but little short of marvellous. For them he has received public commendation in the message of President Harrison, and in the reports of the Secretaries of War, Committees of Congress and the Commissioners of Pensions. The office that he now holds was created for him by special act of Congress, and he was appointed to it by the President, both in recognition of his peculiar and remarkable services.

OTHER AINSWORTHS OF NEW-ENGLAND ORIGIN.

Some of these may be descendants of Tixhall Ensworth of Hartford; but the greater number are probably descendants of Edward Ainsworth of Roxbury and Woodstock, although the connection has not been traced.
